The Palo Alto Humane Society has helped save and improve the lives of animals for more than 100 years, thanks to support from people like you.

Your tax-deductible donations have been important to us. Have you considered including us in your estate plans?

Max & Christy

Your gift to the Palo Alto Humane Society provides care for animals with no other place to turn for help.

Thanks to your support of PAHS, Max is alive and well, despite his desperate beginnings.

Max was born to a dog whose owner, Lynda, had lost her home. Lynda turned to PAHS for help when she couldn't afford veterinary care. PAHS provided urgently needed attention for Lynda's many pets, got them spayed and neutered, and put Max and his brothers and sisters into a no-kill adoption program.

All the puppies are thriving in their newfound homes. We stay in touch and continue to counsel Lynda on caring for needy dogs she finds.

PAHS' Animal Rescue Fund helps us save animals in desperate situations. Each case presents different challenges, which PAHS manages from start to finish. No other local agency fulfills this need.

With your support, PAHS cares for animals with nowhere else to turn.

We are grateful for your past help and for the donation you make today.
